The Allied Global Services - Checkr Story

In the world of staffing and recruiting, Allied Global Services knows that strong partnerships are foundational. To build relationships, Allied uses Checkr's Continuous Check tool, which offers clients regularly updated background check information.

By helping clients avoid surprises, Allied supports clear decision-making when extending contracts or converting workers to full-time. In this way, Allied serves as a hiring partner and not just a one-time staffing provider.

To provide exceptional client and candidate experiences, Allied needed to shorten their previous background check turnaround average of 3 days. With Checkr, that time is now down to a mere 90 seconds for the 300 checks run every month.

This, along with the significant time savings Checkr offers with fully stacked integrations, means that

"We needed a partner who had open APIs so we could integrate their system with our existing Applicant Tracking System. Checkr, by far, blew those all the other partners away."

Allied's time-to-hire has dropped from several days to just hours—sometimes even minutes. Not only does this offer a frictionless experience to clients and candidates, but it gives Allied more time to focus on other experience initiatives.

When it comes to Allied's commitment to inclusive hiring for disenfranchised populations like veterans and people with disabilities, and second chance hiring for the formerly incarcerated, they rely on Checkr's customizable client profiles to filter information not relevant to the company or role. This can include setting how far into the past a
